DEDICATION JOHN BELL

John Bell was born in 1910, in Morris, Illinois. His parents, the William Bell's, had quite a small family--1 son and 2 daughters. When John was very young the family moved to South St. Paul, where he spent his high school days.

When attending Hamlin College John met his wife, Roma Dean Sauter. After graduating in 1935, they were married in 1936 and had 3 children, John Richard, Julie, and Douglas. They now have 5 grandchildren, 3 boys and 2 girls.

Mr. Bell has been teaching in Windom schools for 39 years. He has been teaching classes such as: basketball, baseball, Junior High football, tennis, driver's training, music and social.

John Bell will be sorely missed by student and faculty.

TONY THOMPSON, PRESIDENT; LYNN MADSON, SECRETARY-TREASURER; JIM BOLIN, VICE-PRESIDENT.

We stand now at the threshold of uncertainty and decision making. The trying times of growing up seem to be behind us now. We have struggled and waited for this moment of decision for twelve years. Finally the reality of being truly on our own is upon us. We are young and have our freedom. We are eager to conquer all. The task, perhaps, seems immense and hard to swallow at times. We are told that we are ready to go forth with reason and peace. We will think of the world that lays before us. Remember to think of the times and the moments and thoughts that W.A.H.S. has left us with. For some it will be a relief, for others it will be sad to leave and for still others it's knowing that we will never pass this way again in our lives.

MAY THE CLASS OF 74 ENDURE FOREVER.

ELSE BREINES

This is the fifth year in which Windom and Sortland, Norway have had a student exchange. Thanks to the Friends of Foreign Students Club, who sponsors the program, we have the opportunity to acquaint ourselves with the Norwegian people and their way of life.

Eighteen year old Else Breines is our present Sortlander. Her actual home, located in a group of northern islands near Sortland, stands in Sigersord. The village of Sigersord, near a deep fiord, which glistens on a sunny day, constitutes one main road and several shops. There is no one shopping center, one simply "walks along until he finds the shop he wants."

Bright-eyed and smiling Else is away from home for the first time. She has traveled to two major neighboring cities, but she confesses that she hasn't even been to Norway's capital.

In spite of the fact that Else has been in Windom a long time and is beginning to be Americanized (her favorite American foods are hamburgers and corn), she can still recall her family of two brothers, one sister, and her parents. Until an unfortunate illness, Mr. Breines was an engineer on board a boat which traverses the world's waterways. Her father has been to Africa, the Orient, America, "and all over the world." He attempted to bring his family a monkey, and later a turtle, for pets, but both times proved unsuccessful.

In Norway, Else attends a gymnas. When she was in 9th grade, she had to choose an area for a profession. From the divisions of social, language, business, mathematics, and science, she picked the latter.

Studies in the area of science involved much work which is more difficult than the homework of the ordinary Windom student. The subjects she must labor in are biology, chemistry, physics, oceanography, astronomy, math, and the like. Here in Windom, she followed her science field with our biology and chemistry classes, and added band, choir, social 12, and English 12.

A variety of interests encompasses Else's spare time. "Like everybody else, I watch sports on the T.V.," she giggled. Since her arrival in Windom this summer, football have become a sport of her liking. "At first I didn't understand it, but then I went to the encyclopedia, and now I enjoy it. I also like basketball." Frequently she writes for the T.V. L.R. "Oh, yes, it's fun!" she exclaims, "It makes me more aware of home, and that's good."

Music is the one art that our Norwegian friend adores. Although Beethoven is her favorite composer, and she prefers classical, "all music is great!" Often Else strums her guitar and sings Norwegian folk songs.

This blond-haired, fair-skinned lass's favorite book is the Bible, and her philosophy is to be a real Christian.

Upon returning home, she must finish her last year at the gymnas. From there, the future will take her to university where she plans to enter the medical field. Perhaps she will be a doctor, a veterinarian, or a dentist. At this time, it's all still undecided, first she must see if the medical schools will accept her. "It is very difficult to enter," a serious voice said, "Last year, 2,000 some students applied and only a few hundred were granted entrance."

This bundle of joy and excitement has been living in the Ken Anderson home on River Road. With a twinkle in her eye, and a smile that stretched from ear to ear, Else said, "I love my family here! I am so glad that I am staying here! They are perfect for me!"

RAYMOND VETSCH

Raymond Vetsch, the only child in his family, left Lady Silver Swan of Trespetite (a grey poodle) behind in the city of Arosa in northern Switzerland. Raymond is residing at the Howard Schwab's home on 19th Street. He came over on a self-sponsored trip, but he suffered for that, he met with much turbulence during the flight and had to remain fastened in his chair by a seat belt for six of the eight hour plane ride.

Arosa, with a population of approximately 1,600, is famous for the roofs on the old houses and for its many flowers, trees, etc. Often it is referred to as the "Garden Town." In town, where Ray's family lives in their apartment, the buildings are close together. The reason for this is because, when they were built, enemies had to be kept out and with houses built together it was difficult for the invaders break through the walls of the city.

After home, eighteen year old Raymond attends the Kantonschule, which is the equivalent of our colleges. Swiss schools are academically tougher than ours; the brilliant students finish all levels of education.

Raymond belongs to a 107 year old fraternity in the Kantonschule. One must pass an examination to be a member. The members pay dues which go towards paying for the room and library that the fraternity owns. The association is for boys only, and they learn things such as fencing along with academics. One must work his way up to the top positions of authority, and a medal is awarded for each advancement. Basically, his fraternity is similar to American ones. In Switzerland though, there is much more fellowship between men and boys of all ages.

At WAMIS he is studying in the areas of physics, chemistry, art (ceramics), English 12, and social 12. He also has two study halls to enable him to keep pace with his classmates across the ocean.

Our native of Switzerland enjoys athletic activities such as fencing, motorcycling, skiing, scuba diving, and sailing on his boat. (Fellow Swiss schoolmates have nicknamed him "Neptune" because of his sailing and scuba interests.) He also enjoys photography and playing chess.

His humorous and yet serious friend, being a clear thinker, has many ideas and philosophies on life. To simplify his elaborate explanations, he likes to do what is good for him, or what he wants to do, as long as he doesn't disturb anyone else in the process. Philosophically he states, "I need for my life, first a woman, then I need good and interesting work, then I need food, then hobbies, and last a car."

Neptune arrived in Windom on October 25th and must depart sometime towards the end of April. Back in his hometown, where the climate changes after an hour and a half of riding in the car, he will return to his school to finish the year. Hopefully, Ray will be able to follow his ambition by entering the medical or biochemistry field.

It has been a pleasure to share life in our school with foreigners. All the experiences are some of the best times in life, and Windom will certainly miss Raymond and the other exchange students.

THE JUNIOR CLASS

It has been at the least a very busy year

Making change at the concession stand and selling hot coffee at football games.

And there were moments

occasionally
that glorious climaxes were achieved

That unending speech in the play finally memorized, the perfect mix of colors on the sets, that tricky chromatic scale done without error

The new experiences which at times
made us feel quite faint.

The big mistakes,
Facing an auditorium filled with people
~~being the most valuable part of the play.~~
Trying a Jersey accent
Singing a solo.

Reaching out

cautiously, yet to hastily

With each day,
each new daring act
each blunder
each success

The Junior class takes another step forward,

Tomorrow is just ahead.

JUNIOR CLASS PLAY

Don't Drink the Water, a hilarious comedy by Woody Allen, was presented by this year's Junior High School. The story is about the Hollander family, who on their vacation in a foreign country are chased by Communist police who think they are spys. They seek refuge in an United States Embassy and the excitement takes a twist from there. The cast was composed of the following:

Ambassador Magee, the aspiring politician	Dean Bennett
Kilroy, the bright-eyed assistant.	Ruth Wofah
Marion Hollander, the dingbat	Carol Riebe
Walter Hollander, the cursed caterer	Jim Douglas
Susan Hollander, the almost-married often	Kathy Molitor
Novotny, the sassy shadow	Russ Vogel
Burns, the harried assistant's assistant	Ruth Horkey
Chef, the kooky cook	Roger Gregg
Sultan of Bashir, the oil magnet	Bruce Abild
Samuel S.	Mike Ponstein

THE SOPHOMORE CLASS

The future class of 1976 is a very industrious and happy group of youngsters. This year, almost everyone was involved in extracurricular activities. Some of us even made great contributions to our community and school. Examples of this are our great debaters, our wonderful B-squad basketball team and our great scholars. We Sophomores are looking forward to two more years of hardwork and fun WAHS.

THE FRESHMEN CLASS

Freshman Dedication

By now the freshmen are used to the big-time life of Windom High. They have their little noses in everything from walking on the wrong side of the halls to being pushed out of the lunch lines. They've got 3 years to prove themselves, let's hope they do it.
Three cheers for the Class of '77!!

EAGLE STAFF

The work of the Eagle Staff never seemed to end. If we weren't running around flashing cameras, we were in the Student Activity Room, biting our fingernails, hoping and praying we'd make the deadlines.

I would like to Sincerely thank the members of the Eagle Staff, who helped in typing, writing, and picture taking. I would also like to thank the teachers and staff for allowing us to wander in the halls while taking pictures. I would like especially to thank Mr. Rhoda, who helped a great, great deal in the making of this annual. My special thanks go to the Camera Club who always had the pictures when we needed them.

TATLER STAFF

This year's Tatler staff attempted to capture the ideas, spirit, and humor of the student body and combine them with just the right amount of seasoning to produce our school's monthly newspaper.

The editors, reporters, photographers, and typists worked to cover the activities and happenings of the year with a bit of character and a touch of imagination.

None of this would have been possible, however, without the guidance of our advisor Mr. Lindaman and the great help we received from Gerrie Anderson and the Citizen.

Through all our endeavors we managed to uphold the Tatler image of a fine school newspaper.

SPEECH CLUB

Once a month, the lovers of drama, debate and public speaking, all gather together in Mr. Lindaman's room in search of the finer aspects of speech. This group is called the Speech Club and is advised by the dynamic duo, Mr. Lindaman and Mr. Johnson.

Not only do Speech Club members try to out talk each other, but they also try to express their so-called talents to the student body through the annual variety show, Christmas plays and parties. The Speech Club also sponsors the Winnie Award Banquet when nominees for best actor, best actress, best supporting roles and best technical achievement are announced.

Another highlight in the Speech Club year is the declaim season in which Winton again made a fine showing. Winton sponsored their annual declaim festival and the Speech Club was involved in making it a success.

After another exhilarating year in pursuit of greater appreciation of drama and declaim and development of self-confidence through speech, Speech Club may be deemed significantly beneficial.

DEBATE

Debate is certainly an experience for anyone, whether he be a participant or an observer. It enlightens the mind as well as exercises the vocal cords.

At the WAHS' recent debates dates. It is resolved that the federal government should provide employment for all employable U.S. citizens living in poverty.

Two of WAHS' finest debaters wrote a short, but direct, view of what debate is really like.

Realize first, debate may be significantly advantageous to your mental well-being. It has been argued, however, that due to the red tape of our burgeoning bureaucracy this had become a politically and ideologically unacceptable pipe dream. Statistics show that this detrimental burden leads to delinquency and deviance.

Realize second, due to vigorous protestations of the status quo, Fearless Leader, Douglas L. Johnson, and his speechless, Andrew L. Drake, have been deemed unresponsive to the confused masses. Repeatedly, Fearless Leader, previously qualified, advised us to set our priorities--even at the cost of freedom.

Conclude then this: the affect of debate on our mental capacities is not infinitesimal.

In summary, debate is unique!!!

SAE officially went into full swing this year as Students in Action for Education.

Through our activities we tried to fulfill our goals and purposes, which are:
service to education, explore career opportunities and involvement in education.

In service to education, we promoted American Education Week and worked as guides for parents night and parent-teacher conferences. As a community service, we started a pop can recycling project and invited the other organizations to help.

Our field trip to the Worthington TAC Center and the Rushmore elementary school not only enriched our education but helped us explore career opportunities.

Like any organization we developed fellowship, with a party and a final banquet.

G.A.A.

The Girls Athletic Association, under the direction of Hildegard Bunge, is helping girls build strong muscles. The purpose of this organization is to let girls get more involved in sports and help develop them athletically. With the stern leadership of Deb Block, president, GAA is achieving their goal. So far the group has sponsored volleyball and bowling. The girls are also involved in basketball and gymnastics. GAA members even rate their parties as lots of fun. As the year draws to a close, it appears that GAA has had another successful season.

BROTHERHOOD OF HAMS

The Brotherhood of Hams is a club of individuals, each of us working at our rate. If we're not working on Morse Code, it's the Electronic Theory. Mr. Clark, our advisor, is working on his novice license and two of our members have succeeded in passing their novice tests.

So far we have the equipment necessary for our Ham station. Now all we need is our station license, which we're working on. We're on our way!

LETTERMEN'S CLUB

At the first meeting, that was held this fall, the Lettermen's Club chose its officers. Those elected by the group were: President--Ron Lillegaard, Vice President --Marlow Jurgens, and Secretary-Treasurer--Travis Finstad.

The main goal for the club this year is to pay for the universal gym weight machine. This has involved the group in selling concessions at baseball games and wrestling meets. They also ran a batting cage and booth at the county fair and they have also been selling "W" t-shirts.

The club has a good goal this year and active club full of members willing to achieve it.

SCHOOL LIFE

FALL HOMECOMING

Fall Homecoming! Another successful week of celebration for WHS, was highlighted by coronation on Friday, when Cindy Soleta was crowned queen and Barry Amundson was crowned king. Their attendants were Cindy Helstad, Sonia Sweigard, Jenny Pace, Lori Wiese, Jan Johnson, Travis Finstad, Jim Bolin, and Bruce Eastlund.

New and traditional activities filled the action-packed week. Eagle Appreciation Day (where the student body showed athletes and cheerleaders how much they supported them) and Yellow Ribbon Day (for once the boys had to do all the talking trying to get the girls to talk thus giving up their ribbons) were the new activities this year.

The Power Puff game was again included. This year the Bobby Sox Babies were coached by Mr. Rhoda and Mrs. Campbell. And the Sweat Sox Sweeties were under the leadership of Mr. Drake and Miss Pavlek. After a long battle the Babies came out ahead 9-6.

After the football game against Luverne, Friday night, a dance was held in the commons. "Skogie" was the band and all agreed it had been a great week!

WINTER HOMECOMING

The 1974 Winter Homecoming was again a success. This year's king and queen were Lynn Madison and Marlow Jurgens. The members of their court were: Terry Giese, Linda St. John, Deb Broch, Linda Fossing, Jeff Galle, Ron Lillegaard, Tony Thompson, and Alan Larson.

This year there were a few new things; an Uglies Contest, a Beard Contest, and a Legs Contest for the boys. There was also the traditional basketball game between the teachers and the seniors. The teachers had a one game winning streak going and at the end of the game they had to lose another game to that record.

At the Varsity and B-squad basketball games the fans had a thrill. The B-squad managed to hold onto a one point lead and defeat the Worthington team. The varsity was edged out of their win in an overtime with Worthington.

The dance was sponsored by the Student Council and the group this year was the Robert Moore group from the Twin Cities.

All in all it was a wonderful week for everyone and one they would never want to miss.

Dark of the Moon

ONE ACT PLAY

Contrary to numerous rumors, the 1974 One Act Play, written by Harvey Richardson and William Barney entitled "Dark of the Moon", is not a devil possessed play which uses witchcraft and sorcery to control the lives of cast, crew, or viewers.

Rather, it is a fairy tale type play from which many themes could be extracted if one sits and listens closely with an open mind. One theme involves the philosophy that you cannot be what you are not. Another illustrates the fact of life that many people who are ignorant are very gullable.

The play opens with a mountain scene. John, Witch Boy, loves Barbara Allen, a human, and wishes to marry her. After the refusal by Conjur Man, John pleads with Conjur Woman to change him into a human. She agrees on the condition that Barbara remain faithful for one year.

Down in the valley Barbara and John settle down, and have a baby which the midwife, Mrs. Summey, has burned because of her fear that John is a witch.

Meanwhile, back on the mountain, the two witch gals bet with Conjur Man that Barbara will be unfaithful and John will soon be a witch. If the witch gals lose, they promise to give up Witch Boy. Confident that John will be true to his word, Conjur Man agrees to forfeit the life of Barbara Allen if he loses.

Unfortunately, the villagers feel Barbara has been witched by John and gleefully, the witch gals watch this act of infant stupidity. Piercing screams of Barbara are heard, and John cries mournfully.

Undoing of the witch gals bargain for Barbara's life, John requests another chance at being human from Conjur Woman. Barbara appears at the mountain scene just as Conjur Woman, petting her snake, leaves John with the sad news of death.

Tenderly John tells Barbara that she will die when the moon breaks through the clouds. Barbara wants to escape their fate, but John realizes that he cannot be human. As John holds his dear wife in his arms the moon appears, Barbara dies, and John is zapped into a witch. As he leaves with the witch gals, who have come for him, he spies the new baby. Quietly he runs his fingers through Barbara's hair, kicks her, and flees to that life to which he belongs.

The line cast is composed of Russ Vogel; John Witch Boy, Jenny Pace; Barbara Allen, Bruce Myers; Conjur Man, Carol Reece; Conjur Woman, Heidi and Kate Schneider; Dark and Fair Witch, Mark Smaltz; Preacher Faggert, Sue Zink; Mrs. Summey, and Koral Miller; Mrs. Allen, Chris Zunkel produced lighting effects, Stuart Reid provides sound effects, and Chuck Bartel assisted as the all-around handy man. Settings were invented by Mr. Jansson and Mr. Martin. Bob Hoffmeister and Jane Law assisted Mrs. Campbell in directing and created costumes and make-up.

"Dark of the Moon" was the District Seven winner and advanced to A ratings from the three judges at Region contests. These high ratings, based on the fabulous efforts of all concerned and the support from parents, friends, and faculty, earned us the position of alternate to the State contests.

AWARDS AND SENIOR CLASS PLAY

The Windom Area High School senior class brought to stage, May 10 and 11, a Mollier comedy, entitled "The Imaginary Invalid".

The play, directed by Mrs. Hoffmeister, was performed in the Middle School auditorium, before near capacity crowds.

Starring roles in the play were handled by John Erpestad, as a hypochondriac, Barb Hoffmeister, as the sharp-tongued nurse, Jane Twait, the beautiful daughter, and Karen Hartberg, the scheming wife.

Other cast members were Deb Bloch, Travis Finstad, Dick Bartelt, Greg Crow, Kris Lindvall, Jeff Galle, Becky Aamot, and Alan Larson.

One of the real crowd pleasers was Deb Bloch's portrayal of Monsieur Bonnefrog, the lawyer, who plays "due respect to the law" then proceeds to go around it, over it, and under it.

Greg Crow delighted the crowd, also, with his droll characterization of the slow-witted doctor's son.

All of the practices which we had in the summer, pretty hot stuff! Our first game, the flowers the team gave us and stupid me lost mine. Going out to eat, & then blowing your lunch. And just the goofy pictures we took and everything else!

See you lots,
